Meet GeneSea Gene, Your Lab's Newest Deep-Sea Discovery Partner.

Born in the depths of the Genesee Sea (a highly controlled, ISO-certified ecosystem, of course), GeneSea Gene isn't your average cephalopod. While others were floating aimlessly, Gene was busy perfecting the art of precision pipetting — one tentacle at a time.

Gene's mission? To bring reliable quality and exceptional value to every lab he visits. Whether he's helping sort tip racks, labeling tubes, or reminding you to finally restock your nitrile gloves, Gene does it all with an eight-armed grin and impeccable lab-coat etiquette.

So when you spot GeneSea Gene in your next order or at a trade show, know that he's there to celebrate you — the researchers who keep the world curious. Snap a photo, tag him, and show him where your lab discoveries are making waves.
